Abstract. The authors consider the problem of the control of a system of two particles moving in a plane. The control is a function of the position of the particles and the velocity of one of them. The control is required to be such that the system of particles moves from a given initial state to a given final state. The authors show that the control problem is solvable if and only if the initial and final states are in the same region of the phase space.

The new law, approved in 1991, increases to 10 percent the limit on interest on foreign debt. But, according to the law, the interest rate paid must be fully documented to the government, he added.

The operations of the communication infrastructure must be able to handle more than 100 million calls per day, with a peak of 10 million calls per hour. The system must be able to handle a peak of 10 million calls per hour.

I found the Journal of Democracy had a much more well-represented view of the political field in general than the other two. There would be no great big generalization, only clear cases that get as fully explained as the authors can manage to do.

Proimpeachment lawmaker withdraws signature

Background
 The lawmaker, who was a member of the House of Representatives, withdrew his signature from the impeachment resolution against President Fidel V. Ramos.

Reasons
 The lawmaker stated that he withdrew his signature because he believed that the impeachment resolution was premature and that the President should be given more time to address the issues.

Reaction
 The withdrawal of the lawmaker's signature was met with surprise by other members of the House, who believed that the impeachment resolution was justified.

Implications
 The withdrawal of the lawmaker's signature could have significant implications for the impeachment process, as it would reduce the number of signatures needed to move forward.

Conclusion
 The lawmaker's decision to withdraw his signature was a significant move that could impact the outcome of the impeachment process.

Analysis
 Analysts believe that the lawmaker's decision was a strategic move to delay the impeachment process and to give the President more time to address the issues.

The rest of the page is filled with text, but it is heavily obscured by a grid of white dots, which appears to be a scanning artifact or a specific artistic effect. The dots are arranged in a regular pattern across the entire page, making the text mostly illegible. The overall tone is dark and grainy, typical of a high-contrast black and white scan.

Malls on tight watch for endangered birds

By Rosendo B. Sison
MANILA (Inquirer) — The Philippine Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) has issued a strict order to all shopping malls and commercial centers across the country to ensure that no more endangered bird species are caught, killed, or sold within their premises.

The DENR, through its Bureau of Wildlife Conservation, has identified several species of birds that are considered endangered, including the Philippine Eagle, the Philippine Hornbill, and the Philippine Shrike. These birds are found in various parts of the country, particularly in the mountainous regions.

The DENR has issued a strict order to all shopping malls and commercial centers across the country to ensure that no more endangered bird species are caught, killed, or sold within their premises. The order is part of a larger effort to protect the country's biodiversity and to ensure that the endangered bird species are not further threatened.

Figure 1 is a schematic representation of the experimental design. It shows a sequence of events: 'Stimulus' (a box with a question mark), 'Response' (a box with a question mark), 'Feedback' (a box with a question mark), and 'Outcome' (a box with a question mark). Arrows indicate the flow from Stimulus to Response, Response to Feedback, and Feedback to Outcome. A feedback loop arrow returns from Outcome to Stimulus. The entire sequence is enclosed in a larger box labeled 'Trial'.

Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart illustrating the distribution of the number of children per family (x-axis, 0 to 5) across different levels of education (y-axis, 1 to 5). The z-axis represents the frequency of each combination. The chart shows that as the level of education increases, the frequency of families with more children decreases.

Detailed description of Figure 1: The graph plots the rate of polymerization against the concentration of an inhibitor. The x-axis, 'Concentration of inhibitor (mole/l)', has major ticks at 0, 0.0005, and 0.001. The y-axis, 'Rate of polymerization (mole/l·hr)', has major ticks at 0, 0.5, and 1.0. Three data series are shown: Curve I starts at a rate of approximately 0.8 at zero inhibitor and decreases to about 0.4 at 0.001 mole/l. Curve II starts at approximately 0.6 and decreases to about 0.3. Curve III starts at approximately 0.4 and decreases to about 0.2. All curves exhibit a non-linear, decreasing trend.

Jollibee buying Red Ribbon for P1.7B

Lured by bakeshop's strength in RP, US markets

By [illegible] Inquirer

MANILA, June 15 (Inquirer) — Jollibee Foods Corp. (JFC) has agreed to buy Red Ribbon Baking Corp. (RBC) for P1.7 billion, the company announced today.

The deal, which is subject to regulatory approvals, will create a new baking giant in the Philippines, combining Jollibee's dominance in the fast-food market with Red Ribbon's strong presence in the bakery sector.
